As the baseball enthusiasts put it, a great game is expected at 'Cycle Club Park this afternoon, when Memphis and Chattanooga will play a second game. The players and positions will be as follows: The Georgia Street Bridge-New Con oners' Career-General Southern Notes of Interest.

The action of the City Council in regard to the railroads in Fort Pickering did not The action of the City Council in regard to the railroads in Fort Pickering, did not cause anything like the excitement among railroad officials yesterday, which it is natural to suppose an order to expend a couple of hundred thousand would be likely to do. From ind cations it is hardly likely that the railroads can be induced to build the proposed bridge over their tracks on Georgia street, except at the end of a long lawsuit. Either the city or the railroads would have to condewn a large amount of valuable property on Georgia street in order to make room for the approaches to the bridge. If they are carried right up in the street persons living on either side will be entirely cut off from communication with the outside world except by way of their back doors, an outrage to which they would not tamely submit, so that the value of the property fronting on that portion of Georgia must be included in the cost of the bridge. As to the paving of Broadway, there seems to be a general desire on the part of the railroads to settle their differences with the city, if possible, without a lawsuit, and it is very litely that so good authority, declares, however, that he can easily prove that the railroads have LOCAL PARAGRAPHS. -The Chancery Court has adjourned until next Wednesday. A gentleman who ought to be good authority, declares, however, that he can easily prove that the railroads have no right to the street, and that when the Memphis and Charleston people fenced it up once, they were forced to remove the obstruction by the courts. On the other hand, the railroad officials are positive that the city has nothing to do with Broadway, which is nothing more nor less than a 100 foct wide right of water than a 100 foct water than a 100 —Licenses to marry were issued yester-day to Lucy Carter and John Baugh, Liz-zie Jentry and John Rice. —Four crap-shocters, a grown negro man and three boys, were caught in the act in the First Ward yesterday. —A lawn party will be given at 37 Johnson avenue to-night by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Church of the Good Shepherd. —The Emerich investigation has evidently been dropped by the grand jury. Memphis, Tenn., July 24, 1885.

Dear Sir—At a meeting of the Legislative Council held on July 23, 1885, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the president appoint a committee of ten citizens, to be known as the Water Committee, who shall be earnestly requested to act in conjunction with this council to consider all matters appertaining to obtaining a bountiful supply of pure, clear and wholesome water for the use of the entire district. That this committee be requested to take into consideration the purchase of the present water company's plant by the district or the establishment of new waterworks entirely; to consider the course whence the water is to be obtained and the probable cost of same, the building of reservoirs and the probable cost of keeping same in a pure and healthy condition, the sinking of artesian wells and the erection of standings, in a word, to take into consideration everything relative to the water question and the manner in which the financial matters shall be arranged, and the proper legislation to be obtained to carry out and consummate their views.

And the following committee was appointed by the president: Messrs. John Delaney, left on the steamer Chicka-aw to visit her schoolmate, Miss Ida Chamber-lain, at St. Charles, Ark. J. M. President Fire and Police Commissioners How It Is to Be Done.

> No definite plan has yet been agreed of but it seems to be generally understood but it seems to be generally understood that something is to be done. Whether water is to be provided from artesian wells, from the Mississippi, or from some distant spring, nobody knows—or cares, so long as the supply is better than that obtained from Wolf river.

> "I am putting it rather high. It won't cost $3,000,000. But I think if we do it for $1,000,000 we will be doing it cheap. What I want to do is to have the public realize that it is not a matter of $15,000 or $20,000, or even $100,000, but of $1,000,000 or more. The plant of the Water Company is worth $450,000—I believe they put their capital stock at that amount—and they have $100,000 of bonde. If we can't get the prant of the present company at a reasonable figure, then we have a reasonable figure, then we had a reasonable figure.

reasonable figure, then works. nave new works. all this is for the committee to decide. There is not a man in the community, with two or three notable ex ceptions, who does not realize the full truth of what I have satted in the circular letter, and I think the committee, if they will show themselves in earnest, as I be-lieve they will do, will have the encouragement and support of the entire com-

benefit is considered, a tax of $5000 a month is very small. But I think it can be so arranged that there need not be a special tax. I think by forcing everyone to take the water at a moderate rate, we would make enough to run the worke, pay the make enough to run the works, pay the interest and have something over for a sinking fund. As a matter of fact every-body ought to be forced to take water. But, ci course, under the present arrangement the city government cannot force the people to patronize the water company, because that would be establishing a because that would be establishing a monopoly, a thing no government such as ours can afford to do. The most we can do is to insist that all drains and sewerpipes shall be flooded with water in a sufficient quantity to keep them clean, and as a result a great many people content themselves with throwing in an occasional bucketful from a cistarn or well, in order to save the expense which would be involved by taking water from the water volved by taking water from the water company. Pipes, on this account, are often stopped up through negligence, while if water was perfectly convenient it would be invariably used it is often the case in tenement houses that the pipes in all 'the tenements join and flow through one common pipe to the main sewer. Perhaps the fam ty occupy-ing one tenement takes water from the public supply and the others do not. If the pipe is stopped, it suffers as much as they do. Now, if the city had control of the waterworks that would be changed. Everybody would take water, more plumbing would be done, the sanitary condition of the city would be vanily improved, and the income from water rates would be largely increased.
